Five Day Closing Order Does Not Affect Any Retail Establishments

Must Close On Mondays Until March 25 Inclusive

Places Selling Food May Remain
Open Until Noon Banks And Drug Stores Excepted

OTHER EXCEPTIONS ARE MADE

Order Applies to All Offices Except County, Physicians, Dentists and Transportation

ALL AMUSEMENTS ARE HIT

Local Fuel Administrator's Modified
Closing Orders Still in Effect
Other Days of Week

The national fuel administration's drastic orders, an abstract of which was received here this afternoon, closes all industrial plants except counting Sunday, but does not close retail stores except on heatless Mondays which will be in force beginning next Monday until March 25 inclusive.

Exceptions to the Monday closing are food stores which may remain open until noon on these days.

First interpretation of the order received by County Fuel Administrator Trabue by phone from Indianapolis was that retail and wholesale establishments had to close for five days. This was found to be incorrect, however, when an abstract of the order was received.

The five days closing order applies only to manufacturing plants excepting those producing perishable foods and establishments requiring continuous heat to maintain their efficiency.

The Monday closing order, beginning next Monday, applies to all business and professional offices except state and county offices, dentists and physicians offices, and transportation offices and banks.

All amusement places including pool rooms, theaters and bowling alleys shall close on the specified Mondays. The Monday closing order

VIOLENT PROTESTS OVER FUEL ORDER

It Is Charged in Both Houses of Congress That Garfield Exceeded
His Authority

HARDSHIPS FOR EMPLOYEES

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 17.—Violent protest reached the capital today against the orders closing all but a few industries east of the Mississippi river for 5 days and the following Monday for 10 weeks.

The problem arising out of the hardship faced by more than 7,000,000 employees in the territory are great. Appeals were made today to industries not to curtail wages any more than is necessary. Extra precaution have been taken to prevent outbreaks resulting from idleness of millions of workers.

That Garfield had exceeded his authority was charged in both houses of congress and demands were made for revocation of the order. Millions of dollars in wages are affected.

Demands for postponement of the

An Abstract of the National Fuel Administration Orders

Washington, January 17.—An abstract of the order issued by Dr. Garfield and given out by the fuel administration last night follows:

1. Until further order of the United States fuel administrator, all persons selling fuel in whatever capacity shall give preference to orders for necessary requirements—

- (a) Of railroads.
- (b) Of domestic consumers, hospitals, charitable institutions and army and navy cantonments.
- (c) Of public utilities, telephones and telegraph plants.
- (d) Of ships and vessels for bunker purposes.
- (e) Of the United States for strictly governmental purposes, not including orders from or for factories or plants working on contracts for the United States.
- (f) Of municipal, county or state governments for necessary public.
- (g) Of manufacturers of perishable food or of food for necessary immediate consumption.

ALL OTHER PLANTS DENIED FUEL

The order further provides that on January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1918, no fuel shall be delivered to any persons, firms, association or corporation for any uses or requirements not included in the foregoing list until the requirements included in the list shall have been first delivered.

On January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1918, and also on each and every Monday, beginning January 28, 1918, and continuing up to and including March 25, 1918, no manufacturing plant shall burn fuel or use power derived from fuel for any purpose except—

- (a) Such plants as from their nature must be continuously operated seven days each week to avoid serious injury to the plant itself or its contents.
- (b) Manufacturers of perishable foods.
- (c) Manufacturers of foods not perishable and not in immediate demand who may burn fuel to such extent as is authorized by the fuel administrator of the state in which such plant is located or by his representative authorized upon application by the United States food administrator.

REGULATIONS COVERING NEWSPAPERS

(a) Daily newspapers may burn fuel as usual excepting on Mondays from January 21 to March 25, inclusive. On such days they may burn fuel to such extent as is necessary to issue such editions as they customarily issue on important legal holidays. When a newspaper does not customarily issue any edition at all on such holiday, it may issue one edition on these specified Mondays.

(e) Printing establishments which may burn fuel on January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 to such extent as is necessary to issue current numbers of magazines and other publications periodically issued.

On each Monday, beginning January 21, 1918, and continuing up to and including Monday, March 25, 1918, no fuel shall be burned (except to such extent as is essential to prevent injury to property from freezing) for the purpose of supplying heat for—

(a) Any business or professional offices, except offices used by the United States, state, county or municipal governments, transportation companies or which are occupied by banks and trust companies or by physicians or dentists.

STORE PERMITTED TO HAVE HEAT

(b) Wholesale or retail stores, or any other stores, business houses or buildings whatever, except that for the purpose of selling food only, for which purposes stores may maintain necessary heat until 12 o'clock noon; and for the purpose of selling drugs and medical supplies only, stores may maintain necessary heat throughout the day and evening.

(c) Theatres, motion picture houses, bowling alleys, billiard rooms, private or public dance halls or any other place of amusement.

On the above specified Mondays no fuel shall be burned for the purpose of heating rooms or buildings in which liquor is sold on those days.

No fuel shall be burned on any of the foregoing specified Mondays for the purpose of supplying power for the movement of surface, elevated, subway or suburban cars or trains in excess of the amount used on the Sundays previous thereto.

The order provides that nothing in this order shall be held to forbid the burning of fuel to heat rooms or such portions of buildings as are used in connection with the production or distribution of fuel.

The state fuel administrators are authorized by the order to issue orders on special applications for relief where necessary to prevent injury to health or destruction of or injury to property by fire or freezing.

The order is effective in all of the territory of the United States east of the Mississippi river, including the whole of the states of Louisiana and Minnesota.

is construed to apply to schools as well.

All retail business houses shall close on these heatless Mondays, except those selling food, which may remain open until noon, and with the exception of drug stores which will be guided by the local fuel administrator's orders on Mondays as on other days.

The modified fuel orders issued yesterday remain in full effect except where they conflict with the national fuel administration orders.

Nothing in the order is construed to mean that churches must not open Sunday under the provisions of the five day closing order.

All industrial establishments will be affected here. The Innis-Pearce and Park furniture factories, however, are already closed down because they have no fuel. It is possible they will have received enough fuel by next Wednesday to begin operations again. The Innis-Pearce factory received a car of coal today.

A preferential list of consumers of coal in whose interest the order was drawn, is prescribed. Those included are railroads, householders, hospitals, charitable institutions, army and navy cantonments, public utilities, strictly government enterprises, public buildings and food manufacturers.

The Lever bill, under authority of which the order is issued, provides a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for violation of its provisions and warn-

Prices Fixed For Hauling Coal By Fuel Administrator

Whereas it has been brought to my attention that exorbitant charges are being made for the delivery of coal to consumers by independent drivers.

It is now therefore ordered that the following schedule shall be the maximum charge for the delivery of coal within the limits of the City of Rushville, Indiana.

Fifty cents per ton for two ton lots or more.

Seventy-five cents for single ton lots.

Fifty cents for less than one ton lots.

This order applies to the City of Rushville and shall be in full force and effect from January 18, 1918, during the present emergency, and until modified or rescinded.

Witness my hand this 17th day of January, 1918.

Fuel Administrator Issues Schedule of Maximum Prices to be Charged
For Hauling Coal

SOME CHARGE $1 FOR 500 LBS.

Car of Coal is Received by J. P.
Frazee and Two More Were to be Set Off Late Today

S. L. Trabue, county fuel administrator, moved today to protect consumers from the exorbitant prices which independent drivers have been charging for hauling coal.

He issued orders fixing a maximum charge for hauling coal and asked that violations of these orders be reported to him. In case of violations, the guilty person is subject to the provisions of the Lever federal law, which provides a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment. It would be a case for the federal court in Indianapolis.

Since the coal famine became acute and coal has been confiscated, drivers have been charging as much as $1.00 for hauling 500 pounds of coal. This, the county fuel administrator said, is profiteering of the worst sort.

Drivers are restricted to charging more than fifty cents a ton for loads of two tons or more; not to exceed 75 cents in ton lots and not to exceed 50 cents in less than ton lots.

More relief for sufferers from the lack of fuel came today in the form of a car of coal received by John P. Frazee. Two other cars were on the afternoon Big Four local and were to be set off on a siding this afternoon. These three cars will afford much relief. Coal will be delivered only to consumers so long as there is a demand from that source. When domestic consumers are supplied, mercantile establishments may have coal, according to the fuel administrator's orders.

No hope was held out by the weather man's report today which said tonight and Friday would be generally fair, but that there would be "little change in temperature."

The lowest temperature last night, according to the government thermometer at Mauzy, was five above zero, which is six degrees higher than the low mark of the night before. Today's temperature at one

COLD INTERFERES WITH COURT WORK

Little of Any Consequence Accomplished Because of Inability of People to Reach City

SEVERAL SUITS ARE SETTLED

Few Criminal Actions Are Nollied by Court, Including Two For Wife Desertion

Circuit court was supposed to resume this week, but little of any consequence has been accomplished because of the interference of the weather. No jury trials could be held due to the fact that farmers could not get to Rushville to sit on the jury and witnesses and others interested in cases set for trial have been unable to reach the city. However, a number of civil cases have been dismissed and criminal actions nollied.

The wife desertion charged against George Price has been dismissed and the same action has been taken in a similar charge against Riley Jones, since Mr. and Mrs. Jones are now living together.

Criminal charges against Fred Mahan and Clarence Carpenter for aiding a ward of the state in escaping have been nollied for the lack of evidence. The same reason is assigned for dismissing the assault and battery case against Everett Swain.

The case of Edward Jackson against James F. Linville and others for a partition and to sell real estate has been dismissed because another case to declare a deed a mortgage, in which the same issues are involved, has been settled.

A motion for a change of venue has been filed in the divorce case of William S. Thompson against Georgia Thompson. A new trial has been denied Manford G. Stevens, who was refused a divorce from Ada E. Stevens last term of court.

The prosecutor has petitioned the court for assistant counsel in the perjury case against Curtha Wagner and it has been granted by the court appointing John A. Titsworth. A special venire once was called to get a jury for this case, but it had to be postponed.

Judge Sparks has granted the petition of Charles A. Frazee, receiver for the Rush county fair, to have the land, which is shown to be the only assets of the fair, surveyed and an abstract made so that a sale may be made.

Dora Gwinnup has dismissed the suit brought against Henry Knotts and others for an accounting and receiver and the costs have been paid.

The motion of the plaintiff in the case of Thomas Larimore against William McMillin and others for breach of contract for a change of venue has been granted and the case has been sent to Decatur county.

The claim of Alfred Crawley against the estate of Ada Crawley for $400 has been dismissed by agreement and the costs assessed against the estate.

Judgment has been rendered for A. R. Herkless against Leander Littrell and Inez Littrell by default in a suit to foreclose a lien on a street bond. The judgment amounted to $81.57 on principal and interest and $15 attorney's fees.

Nellie D. Walker today filed suit through her attorney, Chauncey Duncan, against her husband, Hugh

TWELVE MORE ARE PASSED FOR ARMY

This Number Passed as Physically Fit by Army Board Physician on Wednesday

FOUR REJECTED AS UNFIT

Attempt of Registrant to Appeal to President Discloses This is Almost Impossible

A report of physical examination of registrants yesterday and of the classification by the local board will be found on page 5 today.

Twelve were accepted for the national army as physically fit at the examination of registrants yesterday by Dr. W. S. Coleman, physician member of the county army selection board. This makes thirty-five men who are ready to be inducted into the army and have no further recourse to appeal, not counting four men who have been held for limited service.

Four men were rejected by Dr. Coleman yesterday and three were sent to the medical advisory board. The advisory board was not in session and their examination will have to be conducted later.

The local board classified fifty-six registrants, placing nine in class one, sixteen in class two, three in class three, twenty-seven in four and one in five. This makes a total of 1050 cases acted upon and 388 placed in class one.

Since in one case at least an effort has been made to get an appeal to the president from the decision of the district board, it has developed that the new regulations make this almost impossible. The old rules allowed any registrant to appeal to the president on any pretext and one local registrant was granted an exemption by the president on an agricultural claim before the new system of classification was put in effect.

Section III of the new rules and regulations provides that before an appeal may be taken from the district board to the president either in agricultural or dependency cases, it must be accompanied by a signed statement of one member of the local board and either the government appeal agent or the adjutant-general of the state. Furthermore, the registrant can not even make an appeal unless there is one dissenting vote on the district board. It is a rare case where the district board does not agree.

STOLEN MONEY FOUND

(By United Press.)

Camp Funston, Kan., Jan. 17.—The money stolen from the army cantonment Friday night by Capt. Whistler when he killed 4 men and wounded another with a hatchet was found in the wall of his room. The entire amount, $62,000, is said to be recovered.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

Owners and occupants of all property in this city are earnestly requested to clean the snow on the sidewalks adjoining their premises. A failure to do so will cause great inconvenience when the snow melts and probably much sickness.

FARMERS URGED TO RAISE SHEEP

Rush County Defense Council Ready to Assist Farmers in Securing Breeding Ewes

USED AS A MEAT SUBSTITUTE

In Order That Beef and Pork Can be Saved For Allies—Wool For Soldiers Clothing

Rush county farmers have again been called upon to assist in the war winning plans of the country. This time the request comes from the State Defense council asking them to increase the number of sheep they raise, thus stimulating the wool industry and produce more materials for clothing for the Indiana soldiers and sailors who are being sent to the front.

The Rush county defense council has taken the matter up as one worthy of attention and are ready to assist the farmers who heretofore have not raised sheep, in securing breeding ewes. The council warns the prospective sheep raisers, however, that utmost care must be taken in the purchase of the sheep in order that those brought into the state are free from disease.

By raising sheep a meat substitute for beef and pork will be furnished, thus permitting a larger quantity of these meats to go to the soldiers at the front. In purchasing sheep farmers are urged to buy only those that are going to market for slaughter so as to conserve and to increase the sheep supply.

A state organization has been formed by the State defense council for the securing and the distribution of selected breeding ewes to fill just such wants. The organization is in a position to obtain and distribute among the farmers the kind of sheep they want in any reasonable quantity. The farmers thus will not incur the usual expense of bringing into the state a small number of sheep.

The ewes which will be distributed by the defense council organization are the Rambouillet crossed with a mutton strain which will produce a good heavy fleece of about the right texture for war materials. These are one, two and three years old and will cost about $18.00 at this time.

In several cases the banks have ordered several cars and have the ewes shipped direct to them, distributing them among the farmers, taking the farmers notes for them or cash when the farmers are in position to pay cash.

All of the sheep which are being distributed must be inspected by a representative of Purdue University and by a state veterinarian representative as to kind, quality, age and condition before being distributed.

All of the rural route carriers succeeded in covering their entire routes yesterday, carrying the first mail delivered in the country districts since last Friday. In a number of places, the space surrounding the mail boxes had not been cleared and the carriers had to wade through great drifts of snow to distribute the mail. For failure to deliver mail at such places the carriers will not be held responsible by ing was given that it would be strictly enforced. To prevent industrial unrest, it was said the government might make a formal request that affected industries pay their employees during the time they were idle. The first plan was to make the order effective today, but officials decided that too much confusion would be caused by the fact that thousands would start to work without knowing that the plans had been shut down.

IS ONLY SOLUTION, MINE WORKERS SAY

Point Out They Have Contended From First That Fault Was With Transportation

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 17.—“Since the transportation system of the country has broken down in handling the coal, the drastic orders issued by Garfield is the only proper step to take to solve the problem. The order should be obeyed willingly.” This was the view taken by the United Mine workers in convention here on order limiting fuel use as outlined by union officials.
“It has been our contention all along that the coal problem can be solved in no other manner,” an official said. Plenty of coal is mined, but miners have been idle in every field because of inability to procure cars.

Congress joined with business men in demanding a pause in which to study and think.
Not since the war began—probably never in the nations history—has there been such violent protest, such country wide perplexity or such denunciation of a government order.

“Soldiers of Chance,” a drama of financial intrigue, will be the offering at the Princess theatre tonight, with Evert Overton, Miriam Fouche and Julie Swayne Gordon in the leading rolls.

A special treat is in store for the many admirers of Douglas Fairbanks in his newest Artercraft picture “The Man from Painted Post,” coming to the Princess tomorrow. The script for this photoplay was written by Douglas himself and is based on Jackson Gregory's recent magazine story “Silver Slippers.” In the role of Fancy Jim Sherwood, the immaculate dude who wipes out a powerful gang of cattle rustlers, the smiling star offers a characterization that will meet with popular favor among patrons of clean pictures.

Bucking bronchos, crack-riding, trick roping and bulldogging steers are among the interesting features offered by this comedy drama of the true west. Participating in these scenes are the champions of the world in their respective accomplishments, including Sam Brownell, champion bucking broncho rider; John Judd, fancy rope artist; Tommy Grimes, H. A. Strickland and other winners at the last Rodeo Competition held in Cheyenne, Wyo. It was at this meet that Douglas Fairbanks signed up the champions for “The Man from Painted Post” and each individual gives a good account for himself in this picture. Manager Easley announced the picture, “The Man From Painted Post,” had reached the city and positively would be shown.

—Mrs. Will Meredith who has been taking special work in music in New York reached home today after being snowbound for three days in Pittsburgh. She came by the way of Washington where she was the guest of Senator and Mrs. James E. Watson.

Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed.
For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not a greasy salve and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds.

Government Ownership

Now that the Government has assumed administrative control of the railroads of the country, the attention of the public is leaping forward to the possible contingency of Government ownership. Already the management of the roads have conceded that this would probably come and express themselves as desiring such an outcome.

There are many of the American people who believe that Government utilities. Most people, however, require to be shown, and will watch with keen interest the results of the present move. If the government can demonstrate its ability to bring order out of the present chaos of transportation conditions, it will be a long way toward convincing the doubtful Thomases among us, and the step from the government control to government ownership may be a short one and easily taken.

There are a number of features of the present control which, if successfully worked out, will clearly demonstrate the ability of the Government to handle the huge problem. Foremost among these is the matter of labor. For a number of years now the operatives have been consolidating their craft organizations and of late have presented almost a solid front to the management, so that any demand of theirs inevitably assumed the aspect of a threat. And a threat from them, the management knew to be fraught with grave danger.

It will be interesting to watch the progress of the Government in handling this huge army of thoroughly organized workers. The railroads themselves have failed in the task; can Uncle Sam succeed?

When President Wilson proclaimed the roads under Government control there was pending before the management a demand from the men for something like a 40 per cent raise of wages. This the roads have promptly shifted to the shoulders of the Government. Will the demand be granted; and if not, will the men have the nerve to press their demand? If this transpires, what will be the Government's action.

Government policy in other lines of control has not been at all favorable to labor organizations. For some contended that the demands of the men were unreasonable. Uncle Sam is a liberal paymaster, but should his view coincide with that of the management, the men may find that their attitude in the past has been a large factor in shifting them from the frying pan into the fire.

Political Banks

The trouble that the land banks of the country find themselves in is but a natural outcome of the system under which they were formed, according to Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota. When the Act was under consideration by congress last year Senator McCumber prophesied that a "system of political banks, created by politicians and operated by politicians," would not be a success, and that sooner or later the government would have to support them entirely. "The public has no confidence in such a great semi-political machine," declares

NEW POLITICAL PARTY ENTERS FIELD IN OHIO

Members Withdrew From Socialist Party Because of Its Anti-
War Stand

STATE TICKET IN FIELD

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Jan. 17.—A new political party in Ohio made up of prohibitionists, progressives and socialists who have withdrawn from the socialist party because of its anti-war stand, was launched at a meeting here today.

Delegates were to be selected tomorrow for a meeting of the New Party in Chicago next summer.

Complete state and congressional tickets will likely be put in the field at the next election.

Woman suffrage, prohibition and patriotism are to be the principal planks of the New Party.

Mr. McCumber, and his position is borne out by the facts. The present appropriation of $100,000,000 for the purchase of the farm loan bonds directly by the government, contained in a bill passed by the senate on the day before the Christmas recess, is but a drop in the bucket, in Senator McCumber's estimation. If the policy thus inaugurated by congress is to be logically followed it will mean expenditures of upwards of four billion dollars before we get through.

When the Government took over the railroads the operators had before them a demand of the men for a 40% raise in wages. This with their other troubles, was promptly passed on to Woodrow. As neat a case of "passing the buck" as we have witnessed.

When that registration of alien enemies is completed, it is safe to predict that the Rogues' Gallery will be enriched with a choice lot of new mugs.

It isn't the frowns of our enemies that we should fear, but the treachery that hides behind the smiles of a false friend.

Also it's safe to gamble that the price of garbage cans will not be boosted on account of the unusual demand.

It's a safe bet that prices are causing more meatless days than patriotism is prompting.

CIRCUS DATE CHANGED

Because of Fuel Ruling Affair to be Given in Afternoon

It was announced today that the circus which the high school students are preparing will be given in the school assembly room on Friday afternoon, January 25 instead of Tuesday evening. The previous plan of the committee in charge of the affair was to give the circus for the public as a money-making scheme, but because of the new fuel regulations the plan was abandoned and the members of the high school and their parents will be the only guests.

A boy weighing nine and a half pounds was born Tuesday to the wife of Ernest Roth of Connersville. Mrs. Roth was formerly Miss Catherine O'Reilly of this city.

The First Installment of Taxes must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN MAY, 1918
or both installments will become delinquent and subject to a penalty.

The Second Installment must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1918.

No tax receipts will be held out until taxes are paid in full.

Extracts From the Statutes of Indiana.

And each person or taxpayer charged with taxes on a duplicate in the hands of a County Treasurer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the first Monday in May, or may at his option, pay one-half thereof on or before the first Monday in May, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November, in the manner prescribed by law. All road taxes to be added to the first installment.
When the first installment is not paid prior to the first Monday in May, the taxes for the whole year become delinquent.
The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on Delinquent Taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.
Persons owing Delinquent Taxes should pay them at once. The late law is of such character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property.
The owner of the property on the first day of March in any year, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes of that year. The purchaser of property on the first day of March shall be considered as owner on that day.—Sec. 108.
All property, both personal and real, situated in any county, shall be liable for the taxes, penalties, interests, and costs to the owners thereof, in such county, and no partial payment of such taxes, penalties, interests or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole be paid; which lien shall in no wise be affected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property.—Sec. 644, R. S.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the penalty on taxes allowed to go delinquent. Taxpayers are particularly notified that all Road Tax is due and payable with the first installment. No County Order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes and all parties are warned against buying the same.

The Annual Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1918.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

TAXPAYERS SHOULD EXAMINE THEIR RECEIPTS before leaving the Treasurer's Office, and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one township, must see that they have a receipt for all.

Rushville, Indiana, January 1st, 1918.

J. O. WILLIAMS,
Treasurer of Rush County.

AUDITOR'S SPECIAL NOTICE

Parties having School Fund Loans on which interest is delinquent will please give the payment of said interest their attention before March 1st, as the law requires the prompt collection of said interest.

W. H. McMILLIN, Auditor Rush County, Ind.

PAINLESS JOINTS

The Country is Full of Them Since Druggists Commenced to Sell "Neutrone Prescription 99"

There is no reason on earth why any one should suffer another day with painful, inflamed, swollen joints or muscles of any kind arising from rheumatism, when you can get a large bottle of "Neutrone Prescription 99" for 50c and $1.00 the bottle.

Not a liniment, mind you, to clog up the pores, but a blood-purifying, soothing and healing internal remedy that takes out all soreness and pains and leaves the muscles feeling fine and comfortable.

You may be so sore and crippled that you can not get around, but take a few weeks' treatment of "Neutrone Prescription 99" and you will enjoy entire freedom from rheumatism.

Use "Neutrone Prescription 99" for chronic rheumatism, for gout, for the kidneys. Use it when you feel an attack coming on and you will be mightily well pleased with the result.

Miss Mabel Krammes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Krammes of southwest of the city, and Donald Hillgoss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Hillgoss, were married Wednesday at the Methodist parsonage, the Rev. Clyde S. Black officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krammes were the only relatives present. The bride and groom have left for a short wedding trip and on their return Saturday will visit with relatives until their own home is ready for them.

The Woman's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met yesterday with Mrs. John T. Atkin at the parsonage. Twelve members were present and took part in the discussion of the chapters assigned for the meeting from the two books which the society is studying this year, "The African Trail," and "Missionary Milestones." Mrs. W. J. Waite led in the devotional exercises and Miss Mary Fisher presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Louis Mauzy was the hostess for the Thursday afternoon Bridge club at her home in North Harrison street this afternoon. Aside from the regular members of the club, Mrs. Lewis Frazee of Miles City, Montana, and Mrs. Miller Hamilton of Washington, D. C., were among the guests. At the close of the afternoon, the hostess served a delicious two course luncheon.

Twelve members of the Embroidery club of Milroy were entertained by Mrs. William Bosley at her home yesterday. The members spent the afternoon sewing for the Red Cross and enjoyed the delicious luncheon which was served by the hostess at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Frazee entertained the Five Hundred club at her home in North Main street yesterday afternoon. After spending the afternoon in several rounds of five hundred.

Red Cross Notes

The first comfort kits ever voluntarily furnished from any of the county auxiliaries to the Red Cross came from the auxiliary in Raleigh of which Mrs. C. E. Smullen is chairman. The kits were eight in number and were completely filled with every necessity of soldiers which could be placed in one of the small packages. None of the kits contained less than twenty articles. The material for the kits and all of the articles were donated. Five were made and furnished by the school children, one by the Christian church Sunday school, one by the Sunshine Embroidery club and one by the Study club.

Days Pickings

J. B. McCarty is seriously ill at his home in West Tenth street.

There will be an institute at Falmouth Wednesday, January 23, instead of at Raleigh as was announced in yesterday's paper.

Mr. and Mrs. John Osborne and family have moved from a farm in Noble township to a farm in Center township which Mr. Osborne purchased recently.

The prayer meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. Jones in West Second street at seven-thirty o'clock.

A marriage license has been issued to Miss Mabel Irene Krammes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Krammes, and Donnie Hillgoss, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hillgoss.

Notice of Petition For The Improvement of Highway on the Line Dividing Center and Jackson Townships, Rush County, Indiana.

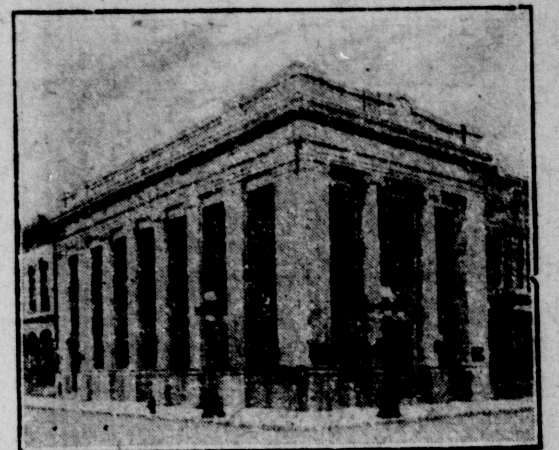

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining and paving with crushed stone of a highway on the line dividing Center and Jackson townships in Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in the words and figures as follows, to-wit: STATE OF INDIANA, RUSH COUNTY, SS: Before the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana.

Petition of Fred McManus et al. for Improvement of Highway on Line Dividing Center and Jackson Townships, Rush Co., Ind. The undersigned petitioners would respectfully show to your Honorable Board that this petition is signed by at least fifty free holders and voters of Center and Jackson townships, Rush County, Ind., at least twenty of which free-holders and voters are residents of Jackson township, Rush County, Indiana, and that at least twenty of said free holders and voters are residents of Center township, Rush County, Indiana.

That there is an existing highway on the line dividing Jackson and Center townships, Rush County, which highway is described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the northwest corner of Section three (3) Township fourteen (14), Range nine (9), which point is the northwest corner of Jackson township, and extending thence east 440 rods, more or less, on the line dividing Jackson township and Center township, of said county, to a point 180 rods, more or less, east of the northwest corner of Section two (2) said township and range, where said road intersects the highway running south in Jackson township; that said highway divides Section three (3) and a portion of the northwest quarter of Section two (2) said township and range in Jackson township, from Section thirty-four (34), ownership fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east in Center township, said county.

These petitioners respectfully petition that said highway be improved by grading, drain-

That said road is 440 rods, more or less, in length and these petitioners ask that the necessary drains, side ditches, bridges, culverts and sewer tile therein be so constructed as to make said road a complete macadam road. That where said highway approaches Little Blue River, the road-way should be constructed of concrete so that the overflow waters of said stream will pass over said roadway without washing same, for a distance of about 800 feet, more or less.

Said petitioners further show that said road will be of public utility and that it will be of public utility to grade, drain and pave same as petitioned for herein and that the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom. And that said road will not pass into or through any city or incorporated town.

Describes A Reconnaissance
In No-Man's Land at Night

Note: By special permission of the French War Office, W. S. Forrest, United Press Staff Correspondent, recently accompanied a French night patrol on a reconnaissance in No-Man's Land. The following is the first of two stories written by Mr. Forrest relating his experiences in No-Man's Land at night. The second story will appear in the Daily Republican tomorrow.

By W. S. FORREST
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the French Armies in the field, Dec. 15.—(By Mail).—Night patrolling—reconnaissance—in No-Man's Land is a something that every first line soldier knows.

The constant surveillance of the enemy necessitates almost nightly examination of the blighted strip of ground in front of the trenches; wire entanglements on the friendly side as well as that of the enemy.

Men who find monotony in night trenches draw their packet of thrills from the silent games of "hide and seek" that can be played in No Man's Land on any moonless night. Trench soldiers curse the moon.

Tonight is moonless. The sky is a speckled dome. Occasional bursts of enemy machine gun fire and nervous grenade and rocket firing have ceased. Both trenches settle down to a period of quiet which is customary at intervals over routine nights in trenches where both sides have been at it for over three years.

"Give them a few rounds with the mitrailleuse and see if they're still alive," the company captain ordered. A machine gun lieutenant sent a panoramic sweep of lead out into the darkness. A sheepskin coated poilu, silently occupying his little niche in the trench next, obeying on order, dropped a grenade, into the cup-like end of his grenade rifle and fired. The half pound explosive slug left the zap with a metallic ring and detonated with a roar and white smoke cloud a score of yards in front. The poilu, laid his steel helmet on the parapet and deftly heaved a hand grenade which sent its pieces zinging from just in front of the wire as everybody "ducked." A parachute flare skyrocketed up from a few yards away and floated down lighting up nothing but the frosty tangle of wire and the dull grey grass ahead. Then it became quiet again. "The Boche is not very hateful tonight," the captain suggests.

A soldier comes along the trench with a steaming pail. It is the night coffee brewed back in the third line rolling kitchen and carried up. This kitchen soldier is the night's most welcome guest. With the coffee he brings along the "gnole," the French army's ration of grog. A poilu explained tonight that American soldiers, in this trench some time ago, called it "booze" and drank it with a gulp and a cough. Most poilus mix it with their coffee though this poilu added that he found it handy fuel when his regiment was on the Chemin des Dames to heat field rations in a stove made of an upturned German shrapnel helmet.

The night patrol is starting. The trench has been warned not to fire at crawling figures in No Man's Land. A captain and lieutenant crawl "over the top," leading the way. They carry blunt little automatons in one hand. A half dozen poilus follow, two deadly, "pineapple" bombs in each hand and the party picks its way cautiously through the wire.

Traversing ordinary wire entanglements is an impossible task but here an almost invisible little path winds its crooked way over the dead grass carpet where the wire is lowest and occasionally detours to escape a shell hole. This path will be wired up tight again before day-break. The frosty wire rattles and tangs despite utmost care in stepping high while stooping low and occasionally crawling. Sounds intensify and seem unnecessarily sharp. But to the veteran ears they are just ordinary.

The first entanglements are passed. A short open space and then the next. A soldier stumbles a little over an invisible wire and the Captain stops to whisper "doucement." The second maze is passed more quietly because it is narrower.

"It always seems a long time the first time you come through the wire, the captain apologetically whispers.

But he's telling a polite little lie and knows it because his first sensation in wire climbing was years ago in this war and now a faded memory.

You are in No Man's Land—waste of grey grassy ground except for shell holes here and there—some old and overgrown with weeds and others now black dirt craters. In front of you is simply blackness hiding other rows of hostile enemy wire ahead. Behind is the vivid frosty stuff you've got to come through.

A figure huddles in a shell hole ten yards away. Everybody sees it and crouching lower, stops. The lieutenant crawls ahead alone, his automatic poised. But nothing happens and he waves the others ahead. It was only a poilu who came out earlier to mend the wire where a Boche shell mused it up early in the day. He had been a little puzzled by the silent patrol.

The party moves ahead, indian file and in five minutes the novices suddenly discovers that every direction is darkness. The tangle of wire in the rear has faded from view. Occasionally a white object appears on the ground. A closeup look and you try to forget it. The rest of the patrol have seen things like this before and think nothing of it. But a grinning white thing in the center of No Man's Land has its food for thought—for the beginner.

"Rat-tat-tat"—a Boche machine gun breaks the silence. Everybody flattens against the ground and waits until the stillness becomes depressing. This "rat-tat-tat" shows that the Boche is still really very much alive and its a warning to be cautious. Most any minute an unfriendly parachute flare is likely. The patrol's work is done. It has found nothing "unusual in No Man's Land."

As stealthily as any North American Indian ever crouched or crawled the patrol heads back but ready to flatten out again with a second's notice. But quiet continues and you return to the friendly wire, crawl and wriggle through it and into the trench which, for the first time during the night, has the sensation of being the safest place in the world.

Word is passed down the trench to all its silent watchers that the patrol is ended and that trench warfare is on again.

At daybreak there will be more coffee and "gnols" and the night trench dwellers will pass the watch to the day shift who've been sleeping peacefully in the dugouts a few yards away.

After six days and nights of "first trench" life the poilu goes back to "rest and quiet" in the second line.

PHYSICIANS SUFFER LOSSES

Many Bottles of Valuable Medicine Are Frozen

A number of local physicians suffered a considerable financial loss as a result of the extremely cold weather of the past few day. Bottles of liquids which were kept in rooms containing no heat froze and when the bottles burst the loss was no small item.

The medicines at the present time are extremely hard to buy to say nothing of the high prices since the beginning of the war.

You can't think clearly when your head is "stopped up" from cold in the head, or nasal catarrh.

HEALTH

Did you ever stop and consider how much more prevalent the ordinary contagious diseases, such as whooping cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc., are during the last semester of the school year?

Is there not a very close connection between this fact and the further fact that school garments, such as dark woolen suits and dresses, coats, overcoats and cloaks are often worn every day, week after week and month after month without being thoroughly cleansed and sterilized?

You should send all these garments at reasonable intervals to be cleaned, pressed and repaired. Such cleansing as we give them is the best health insurance you can secure for school children.

Save the Milk—Feed Acme Calf Meal

A Real Milk Substitute

FOR RAISING CALVES ON ONE-HALF THE COST OF WHOLE MILK. MIX WITH HOT WATER AND IS READY TO USE.

ACME CALF MEAL is a practical and successful Milk substitute for the raising of calves, young pigs, lambs and colts.

It will furnish the Calves and Pigs the proper nourishment from the time they are a few days old till they go on a grain diet.

It contains no Sulphur, Drugs or Chemicals. Mixed with hot water, it forms a rich milk gruel, palatable and easy to digest.

By its use the feeder can sell his milk and still successfully raise his calves at a cost of less than one-half the price of whole milk.

It is pure and reliable, and unquestionably the most perfect Milk substitute on the market for the purpose it is intended.

It contains all the chemical properties found in the whole milk and will produce a symmetrical growth of both bone and muscle in the young calf. It also prevents scouring.

100 Lbs. Makes 100 Gallons of Real Milk Substitute

ANALYSIS

Protein 27 1/2 per cent

EXAMPLE—To feed a calf whole milk it will take two gallons per day; for 45 days it will take 90 gallons of milk worth 22c per gallon or total cost of milk $19.80. To feed Acme Calf Meal for SIX weeks it would take 100 pounds Acme Calf Meal.

The whole milk costs $19.80
The Acme Calf Meal costs about 5.00

The difference in favor of Acme Calf Meal is about $14.80

A Calf Six Weeks Old at $5.00 Is Good Property.

Feed ACME PIG MEAL equal to milk, protein 28 1/2%. Fifteen pounds feeds a weaned pig for 30 days for about 65c per month. A complete ration.

Five Day Closing Order Does Not Affect Any Retail Establishments Must Close On Mondays Until March 25 Inclusive

Places Selling Food May Remain Open Until Noon Banks And Drug Stores Excepted

OTHER EXCEPTIONS ARE MADE

Order Applies to All Offices Except County, Physicians, Dentists and Transportation

ALL AMUSEMENTS ARE HIT

Local Fuel Administrator's Modified Closing Orders Still in Effect Other Days of Week

The national fuel administration's drastic orders, an abstract of which was received here this afternoon, closes all industrial plants except for five days beginning Friday and closes all industrial plants except counting Sunday, but does not close retail stores except on heatless Mondays which will be in force beginning next Monday until March 25 inclusive.

Exceptions to the Monday closing are food stores which may remain open until noon on these days.

First interpretation of the order received by County Fuel Administrator Trabue by phone from Indianapolis was that retail and wholesale establishments had to close for five days. This was found to be incorrect, however, when an abstract of the order was received.

The five days closing order applies only to manufacturing plants except those producing perishable foods and establishments requiring continuous heat to maintain their efficiency.

The Monday closing order, beginning next Monday, applies to all business and professional offices except state and county offices, dentists and physicians offices, and transportation offices and banks.

All amusement places including pool rooms, theaters and bowling alleys shall close on the specified Mondays. The Monday closing order

VIOLENT PROTESTS OVER FUEL ORDER

It Is Charged in Both Houses of Congress That Garfield Exceeded His Authority

HARDSHIPS FOR EMPLOYEES

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 17.—Violent protest reached the capital today against the orders closing all but a few industries east of the Mississippi river for 5 days and the following Monday for 10 weeks.

The problem arising out of the hardship faced by more than 7,000,000 employees in the territory are great. Appeals were made today to industries not to curtail wages any more than is necessary. Extra precautions have been taken to prevent outbreaks resulting from idleness of millions of workers.

That Garfield had exceeded his authority was charged in both houses of congress and demands were made for rescission of the order. Millions of dollars in wages are at stake.

An Abstract of the National Fuel Administration Orders

Washington, January 17.—An abstract of the order issued by Dr. Garfield and given out by the fuel administration last night follows:

1. Until further order of the United States fuel administrator, all persons selling fuel in whatever capacity shall give preference to orders for necessary requirements—
 - (a) Of railroads.
 - (b) Of domestic consumers, hospitals, charitable institutions and army and navy cantonments.
 - (c) Of public utilities, telephones and telegraph plants.
 - (d) Of ships and vessels for bunker purposes.
 - (e) Of the United States for strictly governmental purposes, not including orders from or for factories or plants working on contracts for the United States.
 - (f) Of municipal, county or state governments for necessary public.
 - (g) Of manufacturers of perishable food or of food for necessary immediate consumption.

ALL OTHER PLANTS DENIED FUEL

The order further provides that on January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1918, no fuel shall be delivered to any persons, firms, association or corporation for any uses or requirements not included in the foregoing list until the requirements included in the list shall have been first delivered.

On January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1918, and also on each and every Monday, beginning January 28, 1918, and continuing up to and including March 25, 1918, no manufacturing plant shall burn fuel or use power derived from fuel for any purpose except—

- (a) Such plants as from their nature must be continuously operated seven days each week to avoid serious injury to the plant itself or its contents.
- (b) Manufacturers of perishable foods.
- (c) Manufacturers of foods not perishable and not in immediate demand who may burn fuel to such extent as is authorized by the fuel administrator of the state in which such plant is located or by his representative authorized upon application by the United States food administrator.

REGULATIONS COVERING NEWSPAPERS

(a) Daily newspapers may burn fuel as usual excepting on Mondays from January 21 to March 25, inclusive. On such days they may burn fuel to such extent as is necessary to issue such editions as they customarily issue on important legal holidays. When a newspaper does not customarily issue any edition at all on such holiday, it may issue one edition on these specified Mondays.

(c) Printing establishments which may burn fuel on January 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 to such extent as is necessary to issue current numbers of magazines and other publications periodically issued.

On each Monday, beginning January 21, 1918, and continuing up to and including Monday, March 25, 1918, no fuel shall be burned (except to such extent as is essential to prevent injury to property from freezing) for the purpose of supplying heat for—

(a) Any business or professional offices, except offices used by the United States, state, county or municipal governments, transportation companies or which are occupied by banks and trust companies or by physicians or dentists.

STORE PERMITTED TO HAVE HEAT

(b) Wholesale or retail stores, or any other stores, business houses or buildings whatever, except that for the purpose of selling food only, for which purposes stores may maintain necessary heat until 12 o'clock noon; and for the purpose of selling drugs and medical supplies only, stores may maintain necessary heat throughout the day and evening.

(c) Theatres, motion picture houses, bowling alleys, billiard rooms, private or public dance halls or any other place of amusement.

On the above specified Mondays no fuel shall be burned for the purpose of heating rooms or buildings in which liquor is sold on those days.

No fuel shall be burned on any of the foregoing specified Mondays for the purpose of supplying power for the movement of surface, elevated, subway or suburban cars or trains in excess of the amount used on the Sundays previous thereto.

The order provides that nothing in this order shall be held to forbid the burning of fuel to heat rooms or such portions of buildings as are used in connection with the production or distribution of fuel.

The state fuel administrators are authorized by the order to issue orders on special applications for relief where necessary to prevent injury to health or destruction of or injury to property by fire or freezing.

The order is effective in all of the territory of the United States east of the Mississippi river, including the whole of the states of Louisiana and Minnesota.

is construed to apply to schools as well.

All retail business houses shall close on these heatless Mondays, except those selling food, which may remain open until noon, and with the exception of drug stores which will be guided by the local fuel administrator's orders on Mondays as on other days.

The modified fuel orders issued yesterday remain in full effect except where they conflict with the national fuel administration orders.

Nothing in the order is construed to mean that churches must not open Sunday under the provisions of the five day closing order.

Manufacturing establishments will be guided by the local fuel administrator's orders on Mondays as on other days.

ever, are already closed down because they have no fuel. It is possible they will have received enough fuel by next Wednesday to begin operations again. The Innis-Pearce factory received a car of coal today.

A preferential list of consumers of coal in whose interest the order was drawn, is prescribed. Those included are railroads, householders, hospitals, charitable institutions, army and navy cantonments, public utilities, strictly government enterprises, public buildings, and food manufacturing.

Prices Fixed For Hauling Coal By Fuel Administrator

Whereas it has been brought to my attention that exorbitant charges are being made for the delivery of coal to consumers by independent drivers.

It is now therefore ordered that the following schedule shall be the maximum charge for the delivery of coal within the limits of the City of Rushville, Indiana.

Fifty cents per ton for two ton lots or more.

Seventy-five cents for single ton lots.

Fifty cents for less than one ton lots.

This order applies to the City of Rushville and shall be in full force and effect from January 18, 1918, during the present emergency, and until modified or rescinded.

Witness my hand this 17th day of January, 1918.

SAMUEL L. TRABUE,
Fuel Administrator,
Rush County.

PROFITEERING BY DRIVERS STOPPED

Fuel Administrator Issues Schedule of Maximum Prices to be Charged For Hauling Coal

SOME CHARGE $1 FOR 500 LBS.

Car of Coal is Received by J. P. Frazee and Two More Were to be Set Off Late Today

S. L. Trabue, county fuel administrator, moved today to protect consumers from the exorbitant prices which independent drivers have been charging for hauling coal. He issued orders fixing a maximum charge for hauling coal and asked that violations of these orders be reported to him. In case of violations, the guilty person is subject to the provisions of the Lever federal law, which provides a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment. It would be a case for the federal court in Indianapolis.

Since the coal famine became acute and coal has been confiscated, drivers have been charging as much as $1.00 for hauling 500 pounds of coal. This, the county fuel administrator said, is profiteering of the worst sort.

Drivers are restricted to charging more than fifty cents a ton for loads of two tons or more; not to exceed 75 cents in ton lots and not to exceed 50 cents in less than ton lots.

More relief for sufferers from the lack of fuel came today in the form of a car of coal received by John P. Frazee. Two other cars were on the afternoon Big Four local and were to be set off on a siding this afternoon. These three cars will afford much relief. Coal will be delivered only to consumers so long as there is a demand from that source. When domestic consumers are supplied, mercantile establishments may have coal, according to the fuel administrator's orders.

No hope was held out by the weather man's report today which said tonight and Friday would be generally fair, but that there would be "little change in temperature."

The lowest temperature last night, according to the government thermometer at Maury, was five above zero, which is six degrees higher than the low mark of the night before today. Temperature at one

COLD INTERFERES WITH COURT WORK

Little of Any Consequence Accomplished Because of Inability of People to Reach City

SEVERAL SUITS ARE SETTLED

Few Criminal Actions Are Nollied by Court, Including Two For Wife Desertion

Circuit court was supposed to resume this week, but little of any consequence has been accomplished because of the interference of the weather. No jury trials could be held due to the fact that farmers could not get to Rushville to sit on the jury and witnesses and others interested in cases set for trial have been unable to reach the city. However, a number of civil cases have been dismissed and criminal actions nollied.

The wife desertion charged against George Price has been dismissed and the same action has been taken in a similar charge against Riley Jones, since Mr. and Mrs. Jones are now living together.

Criminal charges against Fred Mahan and Clarence Carpenter for aiding a ward of the state in escaping have been nollied for the lack of evidence. The same reason is assigned for dismissing the assault and battery case against Everett Swain.

The case of Edward Jackson against James F. Linville and others for a partition and to sell real estate has been dismissed because another case to declare a deed a mortgage, in which the same issues are involved, has been settled.

A motion for a change of venue has been filed in the divorce case of William S. Thompson against Georgia Thompson. A new trial has been denied Manford G. Stevens, who was refused a divorce from Ada E. Stevens last term of court.

The prosecutor has petitioned the court for assistant counsel in the perjury case against Curtha Wagner and it has been granted by the court appointing John A. Tittsworth. A special venire once was called to get a jury for this case, but it had to be postponed.

Judge Sparks has granted the petition of Charles A. Frazee, receiver for the Rush county fair, to have the land, which is shown to be the only assets of the fair, surveyed and an abstract made so that a sale may be made.

Dora Gwinnup has dismissed the suit brought against Henry Knottis and others for an accounting and receiver and the costs have been paid.

The motion of the plaintiff in the case of Thomas Larimore against William McMillin and others for breach of contract for a change of venue has been granted and the case has been sent to Decatur county.

The claim of Alfred Crawley against the estate of Ada Crawley for $400 has been dismissed by agreement and the costs assessed against the estate.

Judgment has been rendered for A. R. Herless against Leander Little and Inez Little by default in a suit to foreclose a lien on a street bond. The judgment amounted to $81.57 on principal and interest, and $15 attorneys fees.

Nellie D. Walker today filed suit through her attorney, Chas. W. Dungan, against her husband, Frank

TWELVE MORE ARE PASSED FOR ARMY

This Number Passed as Physically Fit by Army Board Physician on Wednesday

FOUR REJECTED AS UNFIT

Attempt of Registrant to Appeal to President Discloses This is Almost Impossible

A report of physical examination of registrants yesterday and of the classification by the local board will be found on page 5 today.

Twelve were accepted for the national army as physically fit at the examination of registrants yesterday by Dr. W. S. Coleman, physician member of the county army selection board. This makes thirty-five men who are ready to be inducted into the army and have no further recourse to appeal, not counting four men who have been held for limited service.

Four men were rejected by Dr. Coleman yesterday and three were sent to the medical advisory board. The advisory board was not in session and their examination will have to be conducted later.

The local board classified fifty-six registrants, placing nine in class one, sixteen in class two, three in class three, twenty-seven in class four and one in five. This makes a total of 1050 cases acted upon and 388 placed in class one.

Since in one case at least an effort has been made to get an appeal to the president from the decision of the district board, it has developed that the new regulations make this almost impossible. The old rules allowed any registrant to appeal to the president on any pretext and one local registrant was granted an exemption by the president on an agricultural claim before the new system of classification was put in effect.

Section III of the new rules and regulations provides that before an appeal may be taken from the district board to the president either an agricultural or dependency cases must be accompanied by a signed statement of one member of the local board and either the government appeal agent or the adjutant general of the state. Furthermore the registrant can not even make an appeal unless there is one dissenting vote on the district board. It is a rare case where the district board does not agree.

ing was given that it would be strictly enforced. To prevent industrial unrest, it was said the government might make a formal request that affected industries pay their employees during the time they were idle. The first plan was to make the order effective today, but officials decided that too much confusion would be caused by the fact that thousands would start to work without knowing that the plans had been shut down.

IS ONLY SOLUTION, MINE WORKERS SAY

Point Out They Have Contended From First That Fault Was With Transportation

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 17.—"Since the transportation system of the country has broken down in handling the coal, the drastic orders issued by Garfield is the only proper step to take to solve the problem. The order should be obeyed willingly." This was the view taken by the United Mine workers in convention here on order limiting fuel use as outlined by union officials.

"It has been our contention all along that the coal problem can be solved in no other manner," an official said. Plenty of coal is mined, but miners have been idle in every field because of inability to procure cars.

Government Ownership

Now that the Government has assumed administrative control of the railroads of the country, the attention of the public is leaping forward to the possible contingency of Government ownership. Already the management of the roads have conceded that this would probably come and express themselves as desiring such an outcome.

There are a number of features of the present control which, if successfully worked out, will clearly demonstrate the ability of the Government to handle the huge problem. Foremost among these is the matter of labor. For a number of years now the operatives have been consolidating their craft organizations and of late have presented almost a solid front to the management, so that any demand of theirs inevitably assumed the aspect of a threat. And a threat from them, the management knew to be fraught with grave danger.

It will be interesting to watch the progress of the Government in handling this huge army of thoroughly organized workers. The railroads themselves have failed in the task; can Uncle Sam succeed?
When President Wilson proclaimed the roads under Government control there was, pending before the management a demand from the men for something like a 40 per cent raise of wages. This the roads have promptly shifted to the shoulders of the Government. Will the demand be granted; and if not, will the men have the nerve to press their demand? If this transpires, what will be the Government's action.

Government policy in other lines of control has not been at all favorable to labor organizations. For some contended that the demands of the men were unreasonable. Uncle Sam is a liberal paymaster, but should his view coincide with that of the management, the men may find that their attitude in the past has been a large factor in shifting them from the frying pan into the fire.

Political Banks

The trouble that the land banks of the country find themselves in is but a natural outcome of the system under which they were formed, according to Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota. When the Act was under consideration by Congress last year, Senator McCumber pronounced that a "system of political banks, created by politicians and operated by politicians" would not be a success, and that sooner or later the Government would have to support them. The trouble has no doubt been in such a great

NEW POLITICAL PARTY ENTERS FIELD IN OHIO

Members Withdrew From Socialist Party Because of Its Anti-War Stand

STATE TICKET IN FIELD

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Jan. 17.—A new political party in Ohio made up of prohibitionists, progressives and socialists who have withdrawn from the socialist party because of its anti-war stand, was launched at a meeting here today.

Delegates were to be selected tomorrow for a meeting of the New Party in Chicago next summer.

Complete state and congressional tickets will likely be put in the field at the next election.

Woman suffrage, prohibition and patriotism are to be the principal planks of the New Party.

Mr. McCumber, and his position is borne out by the facts. The present appropriation of $100,000,000 for the purchase of the farm loan bonds directly by the government, contained in a bill passed by the senate on the day before the Christmas recess, is but a drop in the bucket, in Senator McCumber's estimation. If the policy thus inaugurated by congress is to be logically followed it will mean expenditures of upwards of four billion dollars before we get through.

When the Government took over the railroads the operators had before them a demand of the men for a 40% raise in wages. This with their other troubles, was promptly passed on to Woodrow. As neat a case of "passing the buck" as we have witnessed.

When that registration of alien enemies is completed, it is safe to predict that the Rogues' Gallery will be enriched with a choice lot of new mugs.

It isn't the frowns of our enemies that we should fear, but the treachery that hides behind the smiles of a false friend.

Also it's safe to gamble that the price of garbage cans will not be boosted on account of the unusual demand.

It's a safe bet that prices are causing more mentless days than patriotism is prompting.

CIRCUS DATE CHANGED

Because of Fuel Ruling Affair to be Given in Afternoon

It was announced today that the circus which the high school students are preparing will be given in the school assembly room on Friday afternoon, January 25 instead of Tuesday evening. The previous plan of the committee in charge of the affair was to give the circus for the public as a money-making scheme, but because of the new fuel regulations the plan was abandoned and the members of the high school and their parents will be the only guests.

A boy weighing nine and a half pounds was born Tuesday to the wife of Ernest Roth of Connersville. Mrs. Roth was formerly Miss Catherine O'Reilly of this city.

Effective Horse Power

Perhaps you don't know that your horse is losing a large per cent of his power through poor harness. It's a fact though. Broken harness often causes runaways, and they often result fatally to the driver or animal. We have employed BOB WILLIAMSON, who is an expert harness man in every respect and can take care of any kind of repairing on your harness that is necessary. Harness is going to be higher and we would advise you to bring in your old harness and have it repaired and oiled at once.

BALL GAME POSTPONED

Greensburg Schools Closed Because of Lack of Fuel

The basketball game which the local team was scheduled to play with the Greensburg five in the Greensburg gym on Friday evening has been postponed because of the closing of the schools there. The schools were closed on account of the lack of fuel, but the game will be played at a future date which will be arranged for by the coaches of the two teams.

The First Installment of Taxes must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN MAY, 1918
 or both installments will become delinquent and subject to a penalty.

The Second Installment must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1918.
 No tax receipts will be held out until taxes are paid in full.

Extracts From the Statutes of Indiana.

That each person or taxpayer charged with taxes on a duplicate in the hands of a County Treasurer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the first Monday in May, or may at his option, pay one-half thereof on or before the first Monday in May, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November, in the manner prescribed by law. All road taxes to be added to the first installment. When the first installment is not paid prior to the first Monday in May, the taxes for the whole year become delinquent. The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on Delinquent Taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed. Persons owing Delinquent Taxes should pay them at once. The law is of such character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property. The owner of the property on the first day of March in any year, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes of that year. The purchase of property on the first day of March shall be considered as owner on that day. Sec. 100. All property, both personal and real, situated in any county, shall be liable for the taxes, penalties, interests, and costs to the owners thereof, in such county, and no partial payment of such taxes, penalties, interests or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole be paid; which lien shall in no wise be affected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property. Sec. 104, R. S.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the penalty on taxes allowed to go delinquent. Taxpayers are particularly notified that all Road Tax is due and payable with the first installment. No County Order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes and all parties are warned against buying the same.

The Annual Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1918.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

TAXPAYERS SHOULD EXAMINE THEIR RECEIPTS before leaving the Treasurer's Office, and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one township, must see that they have a receipt for all.
 J. O. WILLIAMS,
 Treasurer of Rush County.

Rushville, Indiana, January 1st, 1918.

AUDITOR'S SPECIAL NOTICE

Parties having School Fund Loans on which interest is delinquent will please give the payment of said interest their attention before March 1st, as the law requires the prompt collection of said interest.
 W. H. McMILLIN, Auditor, Rush County, Ind.

PAINLESS JOINTS

The Country is Full of Them Since Druggists Commenced to Sell "Neutrone Prescription 99"

There is no reason on earth why any one should suffer another day with painful, inflamed, swollen joints or muscles of any kind arising from rheumatism, when you can get a large bottle of "Neutrone Prescription 99" for 50c and $1.00 the bottle.

Not a liniment, mind you, to clog up the pores, but a blood-purifying, soothing and healing internal remedy that takes out all soreness and pains and leaves the muscles feeling fine and comfortable.

You may be so sore and crippled that you can not get around, but take a few weeks' treatment of "Neutrone Prescription 99" and you will enjoy entire freedom from rheumatism.

Use "Neutrone Prescription 99" for chronic rheumatism, for gout, for the kidneys. Use it when you feel an attack coming on and you will be mightily well pleased with the result.

Describes A Reconnaissance In No-Man's Land at Night

Note: By special permission of the French War Office, W. S. Forrest, United Press Staff Correspondent, recently accompanied a French night patrol on a reconnaissance in No-Man's Land. The following is the first of two stories written by Mr. Forrest relating his experiences in No-Man's Land at night. The second story will appear in the Daily Republican tomorrow.

By W. S. FORREST
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

With the French Armies in the field, Dec. 15.—(By Mail).—Night patrolling—reconnaissance—in No-Man's Land is a something that every first line soldier knows.

The constant surveillance of the enemy necessitates almost nightly examination of the blighted strip of ground in front of the trenches; wire entanglements on the friendly side as well as that of the enemy.

Men who find monotony in night trenches draw their packet of thrills from the silent games of "hide and seek" that can be played in No Man's Land on any moonless night. Trench soldiers curse the moon.

Tonight is moonless. The sky is a speckled dome. Occasional bursts of enemy machine gun fire and nervous grenade and rocket firing have ceased. Both trenches settle down to a period of quiet which is customary at intervals over routine nights in trenches where both sides have been at it for over three years.

"Give them a few rounds with the mitrailleuse and see if they're still alive," the company captain ordered. A machine gun lieutenant sent a panoramic sweep of lead out into the darkness. A sheepskin coated poilu, silently occupying his little niche in the trench next, obeying on order, dropped a grenade into the cup-like end of his grenade rifle and fired. The half pound explosive slug left the tube with a metallic ring and detonated with a roar and white smoke cloud a score of yards in front. The poilu, laid his steel helmet on the parapet and deftly heaved a hand grenade which sent its "pieces" zinging from just in front of the wire as everybody "ducked." A parachute flare skyrocketed up from a few yards away and floated down lighting up nothing but the frosty tangle of wire and the dull grey grass ahead. Then it became quiet again. "The Boche is not very hateful tonight," the captain suggests.

A soldier comes along the trench with a steaming pail. It is the night coffee brewed back in the third line rolling kitchen and carried up. This kitchen soldier is the night's most welcome guest. With the coffee he brings along the "gnole," the French army's ration of grog. A poilu explained tonight that American soldiers, in this trench some time ago, called it "booze" and drank it with a gulp and a cough. Most poilus mix it with their coffee though this poilu added that he found it handy fuel when his regiment was on the Chemin des Dames to heat field rations in a stove made of an upturned German shrapnel helmet.

The night patrol is starting. The trench has been warned not to fire at crawling figures in No Man's Land. A captain and lieutenant crawl "over the top," leading the way. They carry blunt little automatics in one hand. A half dozen poilus follow, two dead, "pineapple" bombs in each hand and the party picks its way cautiously through the wire.

Traversing ordinary wire entanglements is an impossible task but here an almost invisible little path winds its crooked way over the dead grass carpet where the wire is lowest and occasionally detours to escape a shell hole. This path will be wired up tight again before day-break. The frosty wire rattles and tangles despite utmost care in stepping high while stooping low and occasionally crawling. Sounds intensify and seem unnecessarily sharp. But to the veteran ears they are just ordinary.

The first entanglements are passed. A short open space and then the next. A soldier stumbles a little over an invisible wire and the Captain stops to whisper "dum-dum-dum." The second maze is passed more quickly because it is a pattern. "Well always seems a long time the first time you come through," says the captain, looking back.

But he's telling a polite little lie and knows it because his first sensation in wire climbing was years ago in this war and now a faded memory.

You are in No-Man's Land—waste of grey grassy ground except for shell holes here and there—some old and overgrown with weeds and others now black dirt craters. In front of you is simply blackness hiding other rows of hostile enemy wire ahead. Behind is the vivid frosty stuff you've got to come through.

A figure huddles in a shell hole ten yards away. Everybody sees it and crouching lower, stops. The lieutenant crawls ahead alone, his automatic poised. But nothing happens and he waves the others ahead. It was only a poilu who came out earlier to mend the wire where a Boche shell missed it up early in the day. He had been a little puzzled by the silent patrol.

The party moves ahead, indian file and in five minutes the novices suddenly discovers that every direction is darkness. The tangle of wire in the rear has faded from view. Occasionally a white object appears on the ground. A closeup look and you try to forget it. The rest of the patrol have seen things like this before and think nothing of it. But a grinning white thing in the center of No Man's Land has its food for thought—for the beginner.

"Rat-tat-tat"—a Boche machine gun breaks the silence. Everybody flattens against the ground and waits until the stillness becomes depressing. This "rat-tat-tat" shows that the Boche is still really very much alive and it's a warning to be cautious. Most any minute an unfriendly parachute flare is likely. The patrol's work is done. It has found nothing "unusual in No-Man's Land."

As stealthily as any North American Indian ever crouched or crawled the patrol heads back but ready to flatten out again with a second's notice. But quiet continues and you return to the friendly wire, crawl and wriggle through it and into the trench which, for the first time during the night, has the sensation of being the safest place in the world.

Word is passed down the trench to all its silent watchers that the patrol is ended and that trench warfare is on again.

At daybreak there will be more coffee and "gnols" and the night trench dwellers will pass the watch to the day shift who've been sleeping peacefully in the dugouts a few yards away.

After six days and nights of "first trench" life the poilu goes back to "rest and quiet" in the second line.

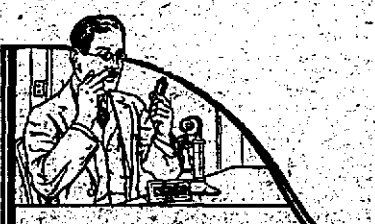

"It isn't bad when you get used to it," the Captain explains.

PHYSICIANS SUFFER LOSSES

Many Bottles of Valuable Medicine Are Frozen

A number of local physicians suffered a considerable financial loss as a result of the extremely cold weather of the past few days. Bottles of liquids which were kept in rooms containing no heat froze and when the bottles burst the loss was no small item.

The medicines at the present time are extremely hard to buy to say nothing of the high prices since the beginning of the war.

You can't think clearly when your head is "stopped up" from cold in the head, or nasal catarrh.

FOR LUMBAGO

Try Musterole—See How Quickly It Relieves

You just rub Musterole in lightly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious soothing comfort comes to take its place. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Will not blister. Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest, (it often prevents pneumonia). Always dependable. 30 and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

Jasper D. Case vs. Ray Strode.
Complaint No. —
Now comes the plaintiff, by Douglas Morris, his attorney, and files his complaint herein, together with an affidavit that said defendant, Ray Strode is not a resident of the State of Indiana; that said action is for judgment on account and attachment of property of defendant, and that said non-resident defendant is a necessary party thereto.

Notice is therefore hereby given said defendant, last named, that unless he be and appear on the 8th day of March, 1918, at the Court House in Rushville, in said County and State, and answer or demur to said complaint, the same will be heard and determined in his absence.

Witness my name and the seal of said court, affixed at Rushville, Indiana, this 8th day of January, A. D. 1918.

HEALTH

Did you ever stop and consider how much more prevalent the ordinary contagious diseases, such as whooping cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc., are during the last semester of the school year?

Is there not a very close connection between this fact and the further fact that school garments, such as dark woolen suits and dresses, coats, overcoats and cloaks are often worn every day, week after week and month after month without being thoroughly cleansed and sterilized?

You should send all these garments at reasonable intervals to be cleaned, pressed and repaired. Such cleansing as we give them is the best health insurance you can secure for school children.

Save the Milk—Feed Acme Calf Meal

A Real Milk Substitute

FOR RAISING CALVES ON ONE-HALF THE COST OF WHOLE MILK. MIX WITH HOT WATER AND IS READY TO USE.

ACME CALF MEAL is a practical and successful Milk substitute for the raising of calves, young pigs, lambs and colts.

It will furnish the Calves and Pigs the proper nourishment from the time they are a few days old till they go on a grain diet.

It contains no Sulphur, Drugs or Chemicals. Mixed with hot water, it forms a rich, milk gruel, palatable and easy to digest.

By its use the feeder can sell his milk and still successfully raise his calves at a cost of less than one-half the price of whole milk.

It is pure and reliable, and unquestionably the most perfect Milk substitute on the market for the purpose it is intended.

It contains all the chemical properties found in the whole milk and will produce a symmetrical growth of both bone and muscle in the young calf. It also prevents scouring.

100 Lbs. Makes 100 Gallons of Real Milk Substitute

ANALYSIS

Protein 27 1/2 per cent

EXAMPLE—To feed a calf whole milk it will take two gallons per day; for 45 days it will take 90 gallons of milk worth 22c per gallon or total cost of milk $19.80. To feed Acme Calf Meal for SIX weeks it would take 100 pounds Acme Calf Meal.

The whole milk costs $19.80

The Acme Calf Meal costs about 5.00

The difference in favor of Acme Calf Meal is about $14.80

A Calf Six Weeks Old at $5.00 Is Good Property

Feed ACME CALF MEAL equal to milk, protein 28 1/2%. Fifteen pounds feeds a weaned calf for 30 days for about 65c per month. A complete ration.

ACME WORM BOUNCER expels worms from hogs, horses and sheep. Fed in small amounts, furnished FREE.

Feed our ACME WORM BOUNCER to expel worms in hogs, sheep, horses and cattle. Also use ACME LOUSE POWDER to kill lice on Poultry, Hogs, Horses, Sheep, Cattle and all Pests.

Bakers Are Now Using 10 Per Cent
Barley Flour and Soon Will Use 25 Per Cent

NO DEFINITE PRICE FIXED

The days of white bread for Rushville have passed and in all probability will not dawn again until after the war. This at least is the belief of local bakers who, following a request of the food administration to conserve wheat, are using less white flour now than at any time since the conservation methods began.

Local bakers are using ten percent barley flour with each baking and according to one of the bakers today in less than a month, prospects are that twenty-five percent barley will be used. This was the request made at the state meeting of Bakers which was held in Indianapolis yesterday as one of the most effective manners of conserving wheat.

There has been no stated price set down by the food administration concerning the selling price of bread. This was to have been done at the meeting of bakers yesterday, but because of the small number attending the matter was deferred until a future date.

MILKLESS DAYS ARE WEATHER MANS RULING

Food Administrator Hoover Not Responsible For Latest Conservation Measures

SNOW / IS RESPONSIBLE

Milkless breakfasts and in some cases milkless days were observed by scores of Rushville people during the past few days. The rulings of the weather man, however, and not Mr. Hoover were responsible for the latest food conservation.

The condition of the roads made it almost impossible for the dairy men to venture out and when they did, their progress was slow, as it was extremely difficult for the horses to pull the heavy wagons through the snow drifts.
